Students are provided opportunities to interact with members from the legal profession on a regular basis and the pedagogy of School of Law caters to the needs of students to be career ready.

CONCEPT NOTE

The legal sector, like other industries, is experiencing significant changes due to the rapid advancements in technology, particularly in the areas of Web 4.0 and Artificial Intelligence (AI). The Symbiotic web, also known as Web 4.0, aims to create a symbiotic relationship between humans and machines, where machines can learn from human interactions and provide insights to assist in decision-making. As AI and law converge, legal professionals must adapt and embrace these technologies to remain relevant and effective. This Faculty Development Program (FDP) is designed to equip faculty members with the knowledge and skills necessary to understand, teach, and apply Web 4.0 and AI concepts in the legal field.

OBJECTIVES

The Faculty Development Program (FDP) has six primary goals, which include enabling faculty to understand Web 4.0 and AI in a legal context, equipping them with pedagogical skills to teach these concepts, familiarizing them with legal technologies and AI-driven solutions, exploring ethical and regulatory challenges related to AI and Web 4.0, encouraging interdisciplinary collaboration, and promoting research on the subject matter.
