ABOUT INDIAN SOCIETY OF INTERNATIONAL LAW

The Indian Society of International Law (ISIL or Society), a premier national institution for teaching, research and promotion of international law, was established in 1959, primarily due to the efforts of the late V.K. Krishna Menon. It has indeed been a long and fulfilling journey for the ISIL that it has earned a pride of place among the community of international lawyers through out the world. In six decades of its existence, the ISIL, under the dynamic leadership and guidance of distinguished persons, has grown into a prestigious research and teaching centre of international law in India. At present it enjoys the able stewardship of its President Shri Pravin H. Parekh.

In its endeavour to disseminate international law, the ISIL has traditionally received the whole-hearted support and cooperation from the various Ministries, particularly External Affairs, Finance, and Environment and Forests, of the Government of India. The ISIL has benefited from the guidance and support of many judges - present and former - of the Supreme Court of India and Delhi High Court. The ISIL is housed at V.K. Krishna Menon Bhawan, Bhagwan Dass Road, opposite to the Supreme Court of India and next to the Indian Law Institute (ILI).

ABOUT IHL SYMPOSIUM

"We feel that warfare is something 'out there', something others are instigating, and yet we live perpetually with internal 'wars' even as we attempt to live a peaceful life." - Krishnamurti

Is it possible to have a world without conflict? This has been a cry and question for millennia. Two and a half thousand years ago Buddha preached peace as a means and end in itself, many scholars, saints, activists, statesmen emphasized the need of peace and order to sustain humanity; realising all this, we must question- what should we as individuals must do to minimize conflict and sustain peace?

Perhaps outward events can energise our inquiry into not only why the current wars are taking place, but moreover into the very cause of conflict, and whether it is possible for humanity to live without war. Humanity has always been crying out for peace on earth – Pacem in Terris. Whether the current state of world affairs goes in line with ultimate objective of 'peaceful coexistence'? In pursuit of better understanding and implementation of Principles of IHL, Geneva Conventions and dynamics between war and its lawful regulation under existing humanitarian regime, the Research & Journal Cell, of Army Law College, Pune organises sui generis Field Marshal SHFJ Manekshaw Memorial 2nd International Humanitarian Law Symposium on 10th - 11th May 2024. The symposium consist of 4 segments,

1. Law on field(speakers session),
2. War and Peace simulation competition,
3. IHL Research presentation competition and
4. IHL panel discussion.

The Symposium will be featuring senior Indian Army officers, Judges and Jurists, illustrious scholars in the field of Humanitarian Law, Defense Studies, Diplomacy, etc. The research outcomes of Symposium will be published in the form of edited book consisting of contemporary issues and Challenges prevailing in the domain of Humanitarian Law.
