Canon Sphere is an ecosystem of varied people holding onto the same mission of bringing a change in the law ecosystem where there is more discussion & deliberation by the people & for the people. A safe space for opening up new ideas and constructive criticism full of positive possibilities and emptied of the old age societal norms. Its mission is to make you believe that change will happen when you talk about it. The cultural contingencies covering the behind-the-scenes of existing law workforce pattern is something we need to draw attention upon. CanonSphere believes that we can make the law working culture a much better place by creating an environment of sophistication & respect
